“Cities as the backbone of urban security

Local and regional authorities play a key role both in the protection of public spaces and the prevention of radicalisation. In cooperation with the Urban Agenda for the EU Partnership for Security in Public Spaces and building on the successful initiative EU Cities against Radicalisation, the Commission will propose an EU Pledge on Urban Security and Resilience, setting out basic principles and objectives for local authorities in these areas, and will call upon interested cities to sign up to a positive agenda to prevent and counter radicalisation and reduce vulnerabilities in public spaces. Cities which take part in the Pledge will become part of an EU-wide initiative of Cities against Radicalisation and Terrorism, through which the Commission will facilitate the sharing of good practices and support projects led by cities and peer-to-peer advisory efforts. The Commission will mobilise all available funding instruments to support the implementation of the Pledge.”

Constant collaboration with external parties

- Align Actions implementation with the UrbSecurity Network
- Scoping collaboration avenues with the 3 UIA funded projects (e.g. BSFS, ToNite, Sure)
- Synergy with UN Habitat Safer Cities Programme
- Non-partnership members being involved in the testing of Actions (e.g. Action 5)
- URBAN Intergroup of the European Parliament
