FactBar EDU

Brings together fact-checking experts, journalists, media specialists and pedagogues to create information literacy tools:

1. to support teachers in dealing with social media issues in the classroom context (www.checkorcheat.eu)
2. to empower students with critical thinking and information literacy skills to resist mis- and disinformation
3. to activate students to verify their social media content and take care of their privacy

FactBar EDU statements:

1. Media and information literacy should be included in the national curriculum.
2. Teachers should be trained, and they should have tools and methods to deal with information disorder.
3. Schools should provide students with media and information literacy skills from first grades
4. The interaction between journalists, media experts and schools is warmly recommended for plurality of views
